Navicure Partners with PCIS Gold

Leading claims management vendor and practice management software provider aim to improve the financial performance of physician practices

Atlanta and Provo, Utah, April 28, 2008—Navicure, a leading provider of automated, Web-based claims management solutions for physician practices, and PCIS Gold, a leading provider of single-source PMS/EPR software, today announced that Navicure's solutions will be made available to PCIS Gold® software users through a preferred vendor agreement. This integration will provide physician practices with the sophisticated tools needed to improve their financial performance.

Navicure's Web-based claims management application enables practices to automate the entire claims reimbursement process, including 100 percent electronic remittance and posting. PCIS GOLD software provides a comprehensive solution for physician group practices to access, utilize, analyze, and share software capabilities throughout their organizations. Seamless integration between technologies will enable practices to speed their revenue cycle by making the claims reimbursement process more efficient for billing or office staff.

"Partnering with PCIS Gold made sense because they share a similar vision for innovative technology development and outstanding client service," said Jim Denny, founder, president and CEO of Navicure. "We also share a similar client base – forward-thinking practices that realize the benefits of leveraging technology to maximize profitability."

"Navicure provides a proven solution to the evolving revenue cycle management needs of physician practices," said Dale Sandberg, CEO of PCIS Gold. "We are excited about offering Navicure's solution to our PCIS Gold clients and feel our combined efforts will have a real impact on the bottom line."

"Having worked with PCIS Gold since 1989 and with Navicure since 2004, our practice has seen first-hand their shared commitment to service and support, and to the development of user-friendly and intuitive software," said Nancy Nelson, administrator for Cardiology of Tulsa. "Their combined offering will no doubt benefit physician practices, especially in the areas of reporting and payment posting."
